

Website Disclaimer Autumn's Harvest, LLC

The content presented herein is provided for educational and informational purposes only and subject to the Terms of Service at <https://www.autumns Harvest.tv/>, incorporated by reference.

It does not constitute, or substitute for, medical, nutritional, psychotherapeutic, financial or legal advice provided by a qualified professional. I am not a doctor and do not represent myself as such; furthermore, as required by the FDA, nothing provided in the content is intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease.

You acknowledge that your participation is completely voluntary, and under no circumstances shall Autumn's Harvest, LLC, its employees, affiliates, partners or contractors be liable for any damages resulting from your use or non-use of the content.

While every effort is made to provide the most relevant and useful content, you acknowledge that health and wellness is a vast field with continuous updates; I make no representations or warranties concerning any content provided, including but not limited to third-party products and services, and cannot be held liable for any errors or omissions.

I encourage you to regularly consult with your own medical professional before and during any health journey you choose to undertake in order to evaluate the content provided and monitor your progress.

Thank you,

Autumn's Harvest LLC

(December 2020)